URBAN BEEKEEPING: A SUSTAINABLE CONNECTION WITH NATURE

We invite you to discover how beekeeping can become an integral part of sustainable urban living through nature-based solutions. You will learn how bees contribute to biodiversity conservation, strengthen ecosystems, and help bring nature back into urban spaces. We will discuss the challenges and opportunities of urban beekeeping, share practical, science-based insights, and inspire you to create a more bee-friendly environment. Join us and explore a new connection with nature—even in the heart of the city.
